SECTION 1 - Background

Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act

The Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act (JJCPA) was implemented via Assembly Bill (AB) 1913, The Schiff-Cardenas Crime Prevention Action of 2000, and codified by Government Code §30061. The purpose of AB 1913 is to provide California counties with funding to implement programs for at-risk youth with the goal of early intervention and to support the implementation of programs and approaches demonstrated to be effective in reducing juvenile crime.

This law established a Supplemental Law Enforcement Services Account (SLESA) in each county to receive allocations. Fifty percent of the moneys received into the SLESA are to be used to implement a comprehensive multiagency juvenile justice plan developed by the local juvenile justice coordinating council (JJCC) in each county. Members of the JJCC, as described in §749.22 of the Welfare and Institutions Code (WIC), are required to develop and implement a continuum of county-based responses to juvenile crime.

The JJCC for each county must include the chief probation officer, as chair, and representatives from the following entities:

- District attorney's office;
- Public defender's office;
- Sheriff's department;
- Board of supervisors;
- Social services;
- Mental health;
- Community-based drug and alcohol program;
- City police department;
- County office of education or a school district;
- At-large community representative; and
- Nonprofit community-based organization providing services to minors.

The plan must identify the resources and strategies for providing an effective continuum of responses for the prevention, intervention, supervision, treatment and incarceration of male and female justice-involved youth. The plan must include strategies to develop and implement locally based or regionally based out-of-home placement options for youth described in WIC §602.

Youth described in WIC §602 are as follows:

“Except as provided in Section 707, any minor between 12 years of age and 17 years of age, inclusive, when he or she violates any law of this state or of the United States or any ordinance of any city or county of this state defining crime other than an ordinance establishing a curfew based solely on age, is within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, which may adjudge such person to be a ward of the court.”

To qualify for the funding on a non-competitive basis, each county's comprehensive multi-agency juvenile justice plan must include the following components:

- Assessment of existing law enforcement, probation, education, mental health, health, social services, drug and alcohol, and youth services resources that specifically target at-risk youth, justice-involved youth, and their families.
- An identification and prioritization of the neighborhoods, schools, and other areas in the community that face a significant public safety risk from juvenile crime, such as gang activity, daylight burglary, late-night robbery, vandalism, truancy, controlled substances sales, firearm-related violence, and juvenile substance abuse and alcohol use within the council's jurisdiction.
- A local juvenile justice action strategy that provides for a continuum of responses to juvenile crime and demonstrates a collaborative, integrated approach for implementing a system of swift, certain and graduated responses for at-risk and justice-involved youth.
- A description of the programs, strategies or system enhancements that are proposed to be funded.

Youthful Offender Block Grant

The Youthful Offender Block Grant (YOBG) was enacted in 2007 by Senate Bill 81. The purpose of the YOBG is to realign the supervision of non-violent, non-sexual and non-serious justice-involved youth from the State of California Division of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) to local governments and to provide local governments with funding support for the supervision of this population. The realignment of youth from state facilities to local supervision in their counties of residence allows their connection to community and family support systems to remain intact and undisturbed.

Since inception, an allocation has been provided each year to enhance the capacity of local communities to implement an effective continuum of responses to juvenile crime. The allocation is calculated based on a formula that gives equal weight to a county's juvenile population and the number of juvenile felony dispositions. The funds can be used to enhance the capacity of county probation, mental health, drug and alcohol, and other services to provide supervision and rehabilitation for youth no longer eligible to be committed to the DJJ.

As specified in WIC §1961, each County must submit a juvenile justice development plan to describe the proposed programs, strategies and system enhancements for the next fiscal year. The plan shall include:

- A description of the programs, placements, services, strategies, and system enhancements to be funded by the block grant allocation.
- A description of how the plan relates to or supports the county's overall strategy for dealing with justice-involved youth who have not committed an offense described in WIC §707(b).
- A description of any regional agreements or arrangements to be supported by the block grant allocation pursuant to this chapter.
- A description of how the programs, placements, services, or strategies identified in the plan coordinate with multiagency juvenile justice plans and programs.

Assembly Bill 1998

Assembly Bill 1998 was enacted in September of 2016 to consolidate the JJCPA and YOBG submissions and streamline reporting requirements.

The juvenile justice combined plan must be developed by the local juvenile justice coordinating council in each county with the membership described in WIC §749.22. The plan shall be reviewed and updated annually and no longer requires Board of Supervisors approval. The plan or updated plan must be submitted to the Board of State and Community Corrections by May 1 of each year in a format specified by the Board that consolidates the form of submission of the annual comprehensive juvenile justice multiagency plan with the form for submission of the annual Youthful Offender Block Grant plan.

SECTION 2 - Sacramento County Juvenile Justice System

The Sacramento County Juvenile Justice System is composed of several agencies which have direct responsibility for various functions in the system. These agencies include law enforcement, the Office of the District Attorney (District Attorney), the Office of the Public Defender (Public Defender), Sacramento County Juvenile Court (Juvenile Court) and the Probation Department (Probation).

The basic function of these agencies as they relate to the Juvenile Justice System is as follows:

Law enforcement provides first response to emergencies and other threats to public safety. Officers investigate suspected delinquent activity and determine if juvenile suspects will be: 1) verbally warned and released; 2) referred to a community resource agency or law enforcement diversion program; 3) issued a citation; or 4) taken into custody. If an officer determines a juvenile should be taken into custody, he/she will bring the juvenile to the Probation Youth Detention Facility (YDF).

When a youth is brought to the YDF by law enforcement, Probation administers a detention risk assessment to assist in determining if the juvenile can be released or if he/she should be detained at the facility and the case referred to the District Attorney. As an alternative to incarceration, some youth may be released on home supervision or electronic monitoring, with Global Positioning System (GPS) capabilities, pending their scheduled detention hearing. Youth are diverted from detention and further involvement in the Juvenile Justice System whenever possible. During the Juvenile Court hearing process, Probation provides shelter and care for each juvenile detained at the YDF; an assessment of the juvenile's criminogenic risk and needs; and a social history report for consideration post-adjudication. Subsequent to the hearing process, Probation supervises youth who have been placed on probation by the Juvenile Court.

The District Attorney is responsible for filing petitions based on referrals from other agencies. Probation makes referrals related to the provisions of WIC §602. The District Attorney represents the community at all subsequent Juvenile Court hearings.

The Public Defender represents youth in juvenile justice hearings resulting from petitions filed by the District Attorney and related to WIC §602. Alternatively, a court-appointed or private attorney may be employed for this purpose in the place of a Public Defender attorney.

The Juvenile Court is responsible for hearing facts, making findings and providing a disposition for petitions filed by the District Attorney related to WIC §601 and §602.

SECTION 3 - Neighborhoods with Significant Juvenile Crime

The following assessment of Sacramento County neighborhoods/areas of the community identifies and prioritizes the neighborhoods facing significant public safety risk from juvenile crime.

Juvenile Probation Population by Residence Zip Codes

The map below provides a visual representation of the number individuals in the juvenile justice system, according to the zip code of their last known residence. This data is also shown in Table 1 (page 6) and includes youth pre-adjudication, on informal probation, on formal probation and those supported by Probation under Assembly Bill (AB) 12.

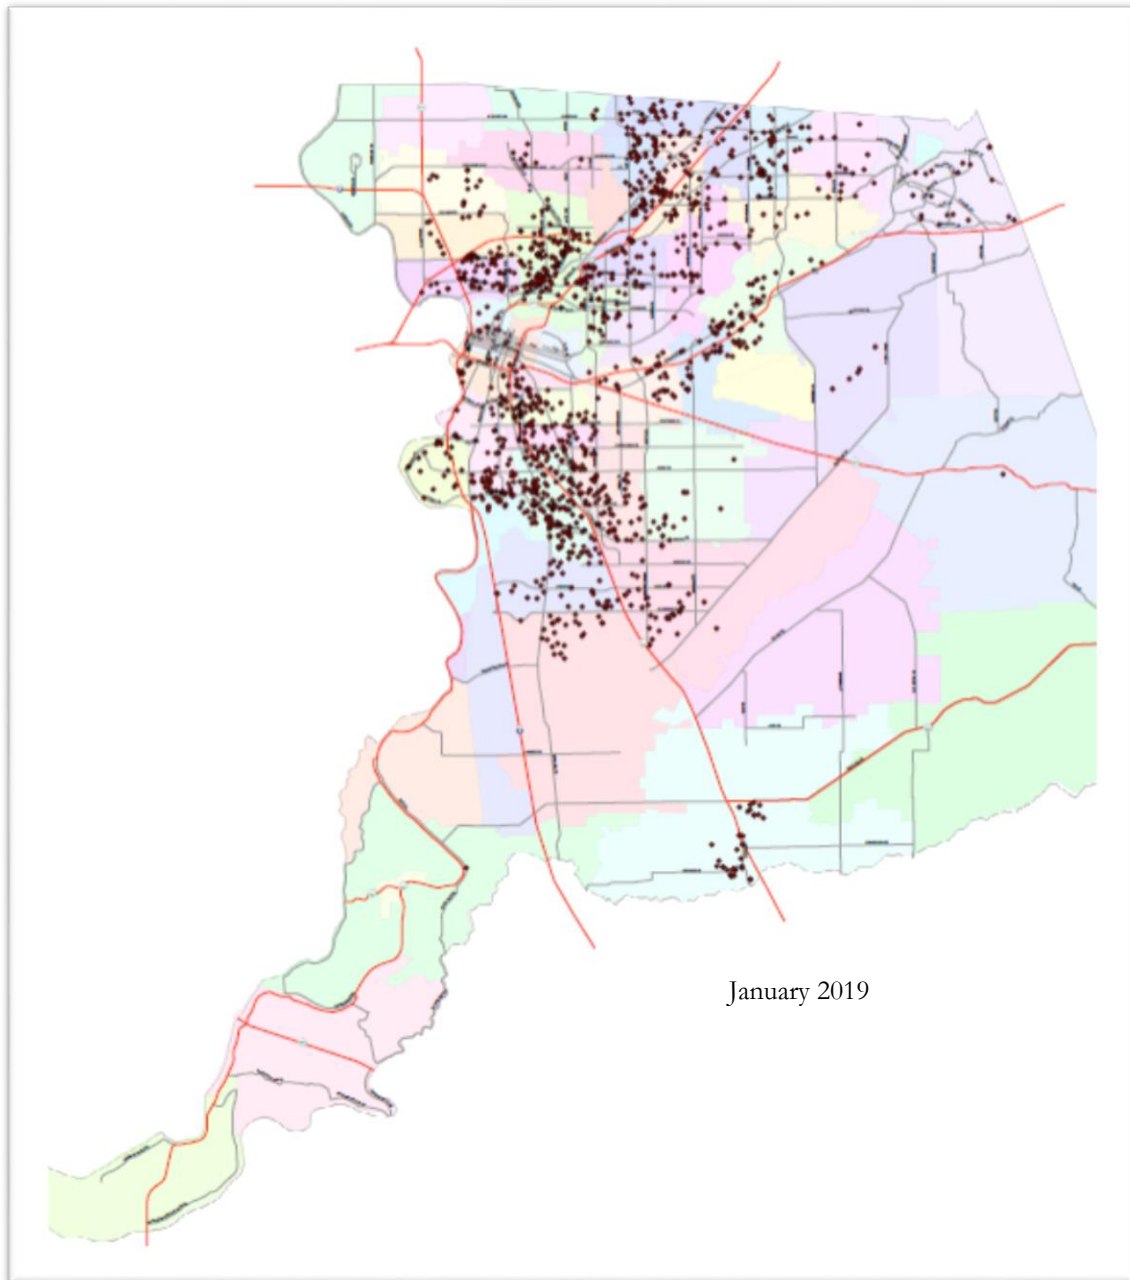

Table 1 below shows the number youth on probation, as of the first day of each calendar year, categorized according to the zip code of their last known residence. This data includes youth in pre-adjudication, on informal probation, on formal probation and those supported by Probation under Extended Foster Care. The top ten (10) neighborhoods with the highest average number of youth (2015-2018) under Probation’s jurisdiction are highlighted.

SECTION 4 - Assessment of Current Youth Service Resources

The following law enforcement, probation, education, mental health, health, social services, drug and alcohol, and youth services resources specifically target at-risk youth, justice-involved youth and their families.

Law Enforcement

Each of the law enforcement agencies in Sacramento County provide local community services for at-risk youth. The Sacramento County Sheriff's Department operates a Sheriff's Athletic League (SAL) which is an after-school program conducted in cooperation with the Boys and Girls Club. The program targets at-risk neighborhoods and allows youth to spend time with deputies playing air hockey, basketball, pool and more. The SAL provides a platform for officers to socialize with and mentor youth from troubled neighborhoods while building trust through positive interactions. Similarly, the local police departments, including Sacramento, Rancho Cordova, Elk Grove, Galt and Citrus Heights, organize and oversee Police Athletic Leagues (PALs). Most PALs include sports activities, a youth diversion program and a youth leadership council.

The Sheriff's Community Impact Program (SCIP) is a non-profit organization with the goal to reduce juvenile crime by providing an opportunity for law enforcement personnel to interact and connect with underserved youth in a positive way and build trust within the community. Multiple programs and activities are organized across the county to engage and encourage youth while helping them make positive life choices. One such program is the Self-discipline, Honor, Obedience, Character, and Knowledge (S.H.O.C.K.) youth diversion program designed to re-direct negative behavior, increase understanding of the criminal justice system and provide partnerships with law enforcement, the community and schools.

The Sacramento Police Department offers a Cops & Clergy program to unite community leaders with the Police Department to build trust between the organizations and the communities they serve. The Mission of the program is to foster relationships and reduce gang violence through outreach and intervention.

Educational Services

Community Action for Responsive Education (CARE) is a Sacramento County Office of Education (SCOE) program that provides an individualized education program for students in grades six to 10 who have fallen behind due to academic disengagement. The program aims to dramatically increase student engagement and success in a small, caring setting. CARE students receive three to four classes of instruction from one teacher in a supportive environment focusing on core academics, social-emotional strength, and study skills. SCOE provides enrichment opportunities, parenting support, mentors, tutors, and other services for CARE students on an as-needed basis. Students in the CARE Program consistently raise their GPA by 1.0 grade point per year of involvement.

Presently, the CARE program operates at nine schools including Foothill High School (Twin Rivers Unified School District (USD)), Center High School (Center Joint USD), Wilson C. Riles Middle School (Center Joint USD), Sutter Middle School (Sacramento USD), W.E. Mitchell Middle School

(Folsom Cordova USD), Mills Middle School (Folsom Cordova USD), Encina Preparatory High School (San Juan USD), and Harriet Eddy Middle School (Elk Grove USD).

Behavioral Health Services

Alcohol and Drug Services

Juvenile Probation and Alcohol and Other Drug Services (ADS) collaborated to establish an alcohol and drug screening, assessment and referral process. Through the process, youth with an identified risk factor in the category of substance use/abuse are provided an alcohol and drug screening on-site at the Sacramento County Juvenile Court building or at the Youth Detention Facility if incarcerated. Following the assessment, treatment recommendations and referrals to contracted community-based or county service providers are made by a senior mental counselor or certified addiction specialist.

Through ADS, youth may receive alcohol and/or drug treatment services covered by Medi-Cal if eligible and if they are not otherwise covered by medical insurance that includes these services. Any youth living in Sacramento County who is experiencing alcohol and/or drug problems can be referred to the program, or refer themselves. Services are provided based upon assessed needs.

Group substance abuse education services are provided through rehabilitative or skills building groups and facilitated by licensed, master's degree level, certified or unlicensed staff. Each group can accommodate up to 12 clients per session.

Mental Health Services

The Sacramento County Mental Health Plan (MHP) provides a full array of culturally competent and linguistically proficient mental health services for children, youth, adults, and older adults. Through a variety of county-operated and contracted providers, the MHP offers prevention and early intervention, outpatient, acute, subacute, and residential care, crisis intervention and stabilization services, and inpatient psychiatric hospitalization.

SECTION 5 - Local Action Strategy

The following juvenile justice action strategy provides for a continuum of responses to juvenile crime and demonstrates a collaborative, integrated approach for implementing a system of swift, certain and graduated responses for at-risk and justice-involved youth.

The Sacramento County Juvenile Justice System continues to place a strong emphasis on the principles of risk-need-responsivity in response to juvenile crime and delinquency. From the first point of entry into the Juvenile Justice System, efforts to divert youth from the system and preserve the family are a priority. A continuum of intermediate sanctions for youth under Probation's supervision mitigates the need for formal court proceedings and is designed to assist youth in redirecting negative behaviors and successfully completing probation. Targeted strategies place emphasis on prevention and early intervention, child and family focus and teaming, a cross-systems approach to programs and service delivery, collaboration and trauma-informed care.

Crossover Youth Practice Model

The Crossover Youth Practice Model (CYPM) is one approach used by the County of Sacramento to practice cross-system collaboration. The CYPM was developed by the Center for Juvenile Justice Reform at Georgetown University and establishes a service model designed to enhance best practices that assist Juvenile Court, Probation, Child Protective Services (CPS), Behavioral Health Services (BHS), SCOE and all of their partners in addressing the needs of youth who are involved in both the Child Welfare and Juvenile Justice Systems. Probation's contract with Georgetown University will expire on July 1, 2019; however, the cross-system collaboration will continue.

In the County of Sacramento, Crossover Youth are defined as youth up to age 21 with Informal Supervision by Child Protective Services, pending a WIC §300 petition, or WIC §300 dependent status, who are arrested or receive a citation and therefore are referred to Juvenile Probation.

The CYPM includes protocols, practices, services and supports to:

- Reduce the number of foster children that cross over to the Juvenile Justice System;
- Reduce out-of-home placements;
- Reduce disproportionate representation of African-American children; and
- Reduce the use of congregate care.

Since the CYPM Protocol was implemented in October 2016, officers identify youth with CPS status upon receipt of a citation or when booked into YDF. Youth with an open CPS case are flagged as Crossover Youth and provided support from a Diversion Team Meeting (DTM). The DTM includes a CPS social worker, probation officer and system partners who meet with the youth and their family to identify their needs and strengths and leverage available services in the community. Based on the needs identified, youth may be referred to mental health treatment or community services to prevent further involvement in juvenile justice. Through this process, youth can be diverted from the system entirely and court involvement can be prevented.

When a youth appears eligible for services from both Probation and CPS, both agencies will collaborate on a joint assessment and single recommendation for the court regarding which status will serve the best interests of the youth and the protection of society. The court will determine which status is appropriate for the youth.

Youth Detention Facility

Youth taken into temporary custody by a law enforcement officer are received by the Juvenile Intake Unit at YDF. The arresting officer must provide a written statement of probable cause for detention prior to the Intake Unit accepting custody of the minor. If the youth is accepted into custody, an intake officer will review all available information and conduct an assessment using the Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI) to guide the custody decision. The intake officer will make one of the following primary dispositions: (a) dismissal at intake with or without conditions or program referrals; (b) diversion to informal probation, pursuant to WIC §654; or (c) referral to the District Attorney for prosecution. As an alternative to incarceration, some youth may be released on home supervision or electronic monitoring, with Global Positioning System (GPS) capabilities, pending their scheduled detention hearing.

The youth in custody at YDF are provided short-term care and secure detention while awaiting appearances in Juvenile Court, serving custody commitments or pending a transfer to other programs.

Probation works with Primary Health and BHS to provide medical, mental health, alcohol and drug services to youth within the facility. Services include health screenings, immunizations, optometry, dental, routine care, specialty care, crisis services, alcohol and drug screenings, education and supportive services.

On-site education for youth within YDF is overseen by SCOE and occurs at El Centro Junior/Senior High School. Instruction includes English, Math, Social Studies, Science, and Physical Education, as well as Financial and Computer Literacy. Students with Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) receive instruction by special education staff. High School Equivalency Testing (HiSET) is also available for those students ready to take the test.

Youth detained at the YDF are provided with a vast array of programs made possible by the dedication of assigned probation staff, contract employees and over 100 volunteers. Programs are designed to strengthen pro-social skills, build confidence, solve problems, develop appropriate decision making skills, promote physical activities and enhance academic performance. These programs encourage youth to work towards rehabilitation and build skills to support their reintegration into the community upon release from custody. Some of the programs available at YDF are highlighted below:

Parent Orientation Night

Parents of youth detained at the YDF facility are invited to Parent Orientation Night. At the orientation meeting, information is provided to parents about the services and programming their child will receive while in Probation's care. Stakeholder representatives including BHS, Primary Health, and SCOE attend the event to answer questions regarding health care and education. Probation's community-based organization partners discuss the programs available to youth within the facility. Parents are also provided with resources to assist with their child's reintegration back into the community upon their release. The event occurs on the third Thursday of every month in the Visitor Center.

Trauma Informed Care

Youth identified as having a significant history of trauma receive a Child and Adolescent Trauma Screen and up to 10 sessions of trauma curriculum. All school and probation staff assigned to the designated units are provided with intensive trauma training. Some of the units have been converted to a homelike and inviting environment and contain coping boxes which include sensory items, journals and other items to help calm and regulate youth.

Justice League

The Justice League is an intramural sports league developed by Probation staff in which units compete against one another in athletic competitions including flag football, soccer and relay races. The program builds an incentive platform that promotes positive behavior leading up to each activity. Participation in team sports builds self-esteem and teaches life skills youth will retain upon their release, such as leadership, teamwork and communication. By providing prosocial behavior models in a team setting, youth begin to develop empathy and are encouraged to voluntarily exhibit behaviors benefiting others, as opposed to behaviors that solely benefit themselves. This is extremely impactful for youth previously involved in antisocial behaviors such as drug abuse, alcohol abuse, violence or gang activity. Desired behavior is achieved as the sports program breaks down social barriers to allow youth to build trust and bond. This program is part of a larger shift in the facility to engage youth, provide support and connect them to resources in the community.

Alternatives to Violence

The Alternatives to Violence (ATV) curriculum is provided to youth as part of a collaboration with the Health Education Council and the Sacramento Minority Youth Violence Prevention Collective. The program links law enforcement, public health and community organizations to reduce minority youth violence in and out of custody. Workshops draw on the shared experience of participants, using interactive exercises and discussions to examine the ways youth respond to situations where frustration and anger can lead to violence or aggressive behavior. The exercises and discussions help youth manage feelings, anger and fears so they can build good relationships, approach conflict in a more creative and less reactive manner and deal more effectively with risk and threatening situations.

Skills, Training and Enrichment Program

The Skills, Training and Enrichment Program (STEP) is a multidisciplinary, skill building youth program encompassing education, mental health, recreational therapy and physical fitness. The program encourages pro-social behavior among youth with the goal of improving their daily social interactions.

Pawsitive Impact

Pawsitive Impact engages youth in providing shelter dog training to rehabilitate and re-socialize abandoned and/or abused dogs and transform them into adoptable pets. Along with teaching youth lessons in accountability, responsibility, and consideration, the program encourages youth who have previously been under-engaged to participate in community service opportunities and other prosocial activities in the community upon their release from YDF.

The Multi-Sensory De-escalation Room

Probation uses a Multi-Sensory De-escalation Room (MSDR) as an alternative to external regulation for dysregulated residents. The MSDR is a therapeutic space that can be used proactively to develop self-regulation skills or responsively as an area for youth experiencing dysregulated behavior to safely regain control of their behavior and emotions. Through an assessment process, the MSDRs are used to identify triggers and strengths in order to select sensory activities that may help with internal regulation. The MSDR walls are painted with visually stimulating murals and stocked with variety of manipulatives designed to engage all of the senses and stimulate gross motor, fine motor and cognitive skills. The youths' abilities to use resources in this environment to calm their emotions with staff engagement is a critical step in the process of self-regulation. By blending applied brain research, child development and occupational therapy concepts, staff connects with and helps youth develop cognitive skills and self-control techniques.

Swimming Program

There are a disproportionate number of African-American child drowning deaths in the United States. To address this issue YDF partnered with the Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA) to implement a swimming program. The swim program provides an opportunity for exercise and promotes positive social engagement. Through the program, youth build confidence and increase water safety skills, which can prevent minority drownings and water-related accidents. The swim program also promotes positive social engagement.

In 2016, the pool program was expanded to include an American Red Cross lifeguard certification program. Youth certified as lifeguards through the program receive employment development services including internships, application assistance, mock interviews and connections to employment in the community at the YMCA. Graduates can be employed at community pools upon their release.

Music Program

The music program curriculum includes music/instrument instruction as well as classes on music literacy theory and production. Students can learn to compose, play and record their own music and lyrics.

Garden Program

The Garden Program is facilitated by YDF staff and includes many hands-on activities to teach youth about garden design, germination, composting, seasonal planting and harvesting seasonal crops. The program also focuses on the importance of health and nutrition. Youth are introduced to new fruits and vegetables, and enjoy salads from the produce they harvest.

Scholars Obtaining Academic Responsibility

Probation partnered with Los Rios Community College District to implement the Scholars Obtaining Academic Responsibility (SOAR) educational empowerment program designed to introduce youth to higher education opportunities and provide them with ability to earn college credits. Through the program, youth are provided with instruction and support both in the YDF and in the community upon their release.

Northern California Construction Training

The Northern California Construction Training (NCCT) program provides participants with the opportunity to develop vocational skills and obtain work experience which enhances their ability to gain and retain employment within the community. Program participants receive classroom and practical instruction on basic components of various areas of construction, including the use of construction terms, tool and equipment. Instruction is provided on general job safety and first aid practices. Upon release, youth can continue program participation in the community.

Library Program

The YDF Library has over 11,000 books and recently expanded into a larger location within the facility. The goal of this program is to promote reading, improve literacy and provide youth with resources to help them prepare for the transition back into their communities. The library is designed to create an atmosphere of learning, education and innovation. The YDF Library also holds various contests for youth to encourage creativity through art and poetry.

The Transition Unit

The Transition Unit prepares youth for reentry into the community by connecting them with community-based organizations and providing assistance with transcripts, school enrollment, connections to Medi-Cal, pre-employment guidance, counseling, vocational training and record seal workshops. The Transition Unit participates in the Juvenile Field reentry program to allow for a seamless transition to community supervision.

Juvenile Court Investigations and Services

Probation officers in the Juvenile Court Investigations and Services Division conduct case investigations and prepare social study reports used by the Court, District Attorney and Public Defender during negotiations and to inform court disposition and treatment recommendations. Officers develop the recommendations for these reports using the Youth Level of Services/Case Management Inventory 2.0 (YLS/CMI) risk and needs assessment tool during the post-findings child and family interview.

Officers serve as presenters in the juvenile courtroom where they guide non-detained youth and families into the courtroom, provide last-minute case information and research probation issues at the Court's request. When hearings conclude, probation officers provide families and youth relevant information about the case and next steps.

Additionally, officers in this division work with victims of the alleged crimes while developing the social study reports and seek restitution on their behalf.

Juvenile Field Services

Once a justice-involved youth has been adjudicated and placed on probation, sometimes following a period of detention at the YDF, the case is referred to Probation's Juvenile Field Services Division (Juvenile Field).

Roadmap For Success-Candidacy Assessment and Reentry Team

The first step in the juvenile field supervision assignment process is candidacy assessment through a structured interview to engage and motivate the youth and the family. Officers meet with youth subject to a WIC §602 petition to renew and update their risk-and-needs assessment, in collaboration with the youth's family/legal guardian, to determine their risk to recidivate and to identify strengths and areas of need. The assessment results drive the dynamic and individualized case planning process with an emphasis on criminogenic risk and protective factors. Through this guided process, evidence-based programs within the community are discussed and explored with the youth and family. Referrals to community-based providers are made on-site and connection to service is timely. Supervision and support are provided by case managing officers who further collaborate with service providers, youth, families, and natural supports.

Probation released a Request for Proposal (RFP) in March of 2019 to select a contractor to provide an array of effective intervention strategies for those most at-risk and most in-need to prevent or reduce acute illness, high-risk behaviors and incarceration. Targeted behaviors will include: family circumstances and parenting; education/employment; peer relations; substance abuse; leisure and recreation activities; personality/behaviors; and attitudes/orientation. Through a trauma informed approach, the selected contractor will work in collaboration with probation officers, youth, families, advocates, educators and natural supports to ensure the youth's needs are being met. Services are expected to begin July of 2019.

Reentry Development for Youth

The target population for Reentry Development for Youth (R.E.D.Y-GO!) is comprised of youth returning to our community as a result of an episode in detention or placement. Best practices recognize that reentry planning and services begin at the time of admission to detention and continue beyond the youth's release and reintegration into the community. This reentry continuum consists of three overlapping phases: 1) in the facility, 2) the transition out of the facility and into the community, and 3) in the community. Sacramento County's reentry process utilizes collaborative teaming to assess strengths and needs, develop transition and case plans, and make connections to services, education, housing and employment prior to release from custody.

The R.E.D.Y-GO! program provides intentional coordination for community transition and stabilization prior to release through a comprehensive assessment based on strength and need, the development of an individualized case plan, referrals to community-based services and family engagement. Through a collaborative teaming process with representatives from Probation, BHS, Primary Health, SCOE, service providers and, most importantly, the youth and family, a transition plan is developed. Prior to community reentry, connections to services related to treatment, education, housing, employment/vocational opportunities and positive youth development are made. The collaborative process and plan implementation continue as case managing officers provide supervision and support within the community.

Community-based Supervision

The Community-based Supervision Unit (CBSU) case assignment is based on the school districts where youth on probation attend school. The CBSU is designed to give officers increased access to youth during the school day which provides a better opportunity to supervise and support them in the community. This innovative method of supervision partners probation officers with school districts to positively impact educational outcomes for Probation youth.

Juvenile Field officers supervise both community and "office" cases, which allows youth to be moved between the two caseload types based upon their assessed needs and compliance with Probation. This approach increases supervision efficiency, education and advocacy, and promotes healthy relationships between youth and officers. Further, there is improved information-sharing among school resource officers, teachers, and counselors. Through a fluid case planning process that often includes Child and Family Team (CFT) meetings, officers work with youth, families and community-based providers to ensure service needs are met.

Children and Families Together Initiative

In March 2006, California was approved to implement the Title IV-E California Well-Being Project (Title IV-E). The purpose of Title IV-E is to support counties with the flexible use of federal and state foster care funding to assist CPS, BHS and Probation in developing and implementing alternative services to improve outcomes for children and their families. Treatment interventions are family-centered and focus on improving family functioning while reducing a youth's negative behaviors. Clients referred to an intervention program attend several treatment and/or support service sessions with a team of trained counselors, parent partners, and the probation officer for up to six months. The interventions focus on family partnering to prevent youth from being removed from their home and placed in out-of-home placement. Each treatment has a slightly different approach, which allows Probation to cater the treatment to each individual youth's and family's needs. The Federally supported Title IV-E project is scheduled to sunset September 30, 2019.

Impact Services Unit

Probation officers in the Impact Services Unit provide enhanced case management services to youth on probation who are experiencing mental health disorders and sexual exploitation. Through collaborative partnerships across systems, higher risk youth and families are supported through a teaming process, Multidisciplinary Team (MDT) and/or CFT meetings, which may occur in a mental health full service partnership program or through Commercially Sexually Exploited Children (CSEC) specific programming as described in detail below. Youth and families are referred to community-based programs to support their varying needs which may include family based services, psychiatric services, cognitive based individual or group therapy, trauma related curriculums, youth advocates, life skills and/or educational/vocational training opportunities. Officers in this unit receive specific training in order to support the complex needs of the youth and families.

Commercially Sexually Exploited Children:

Since 2014, the California Legislature has invested in the child welfare system's capacity to identify and serve CSEC, while simultaneously shifting away from criminalization. Sacramento County has utilized a multi-layered set of strategies to strengthen the ability of front line staff and employees to engage, serve and support CSEC and their families. Sacramento County's CSEC Steering Committee, led by the Department of Child, Family and Adult Services (DCFAS), includes representatives from Probation, Juvenile Court, education, law enforcement, the Public Defender, the District Attorney, Public Health, BHS and community-based organizations that serve CSEC.

The West Coast Screening Assessment Tool is conducted on every youth booked into YDF in order to identify youth believed to be CSEC. CSEC youth are placed on the caseloads of specially trained probation officers. The officers meets with CSEC youth to discuss their current situation and make recommendations to the Court. Additionally, probation officers participate in MDT meetings with attorneys, DCFAS, UC Davis counselors, youth advocates and other providers connected to these cases. In 2014, the Juvenile Court dedicated a docket to CSEC youth that includes support from two Juvenile Field officers and one Juvenile Court presenter. In 2015, Probation entered into a Memorandum of Understanding to detail the Program Interagency Protocol with the Juvenile Court, DCFAS, BHS, Public Health, the District Attorney, the Sheriff's Department, the Sacramento Police Department, Sacramento City Unified School District, SCOE, Children's Law

Center, Children’s Receiving Home, UC Davis CAARE Center and Another Choice Another Chance. The Protocol states CSEC must be understood as child abuse and reported as such, children should not be criminalized for their sexual exploitation, responses to CSEC youth should be victim centered, trauma-informed, strength-based, developmentally appropriate, culturally competent, data and outcome driven, and in the best interest of the child.

Youth who were not booked into YDF, but placed on probation by the Juvenile Court, are also provided a CSEC assessment by the Juvenile Field Candidacy Assessment Unit. Youth identified as CSEC are supervised by the Impact Services Unit. Officers in this Unit ensure compliance to Senate Bill (SB) 794 and are highly trained on the topic of human trafficking, victimization and pimping, intervention strategies, harm reduction, trauma informed care, and services specific to CSEC.

Juvenile Justice Diversion and Treatment Program:

The Juvenile Justice Diversion and Treatment Program (JJDTP) is a Full Service Partnership (FSP) of the Mental Health Services Act. The program is a contracted FSP between BHS, Probation and River Oak Center for Children and was established to deliver integrated services to a population of youth involved with juvenile justice that have multiple complex needs cutting across service areas. Presently, there is capacity for up to 128 youth, with 36 of these spaces reserved for diversion. Diversion youth have not been adjudicated but there is a nexus between exhibited behavior and criminal conduct. To be eligible, youth must meet serious emotional disturbance criteria and be between the ages of 13-19 at the time of enrollment. Through the JJDTP, eligible youth and their families are provided with mental health screenings, assessments, intensive mental health services and FSP supports. Family and youth advocates complement clinical services. Eligible youth referred to the program are provided the opportunity to voluntarily receive intensive, evidence-based services delivered in coordination with a specialized probation officer. Youth referred to the program can voluntarily participate as long as clinically necessary or up to their 26th birthday. Program outcomes for youth include reduced psychiatric hospitalization, increased engagement in educational programs as well as reduced arrests and incarcerations.

JJDTP program seeks to achieve the following five goals:

1. Stabilize housing placements and reduce homelessness;
2. Increase school attendance and achievement;
3. Increase vocational training and employment;
4. Reduce psychiatric hospitalizations; and
5. Reduce juvenile detention and/or young adult incarceration.

Age of Majority Unit

Age of Majority Unit (AOM) is a specialized field unit providing case management services and support to young people ages 18-21 under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court. The target population includes young adults who are not currently enrolled in High School or have already obtained their diploma. These young adults receive a Level of Service/Case Management Inventory (LS/CMI) assessment and case planning that includes referrals to services to meet identified needs. Referrals are focused on specialized treatment, education, vocational training, and other supports as needed, such as food and emergency housing. The goal of AOM is to provide clients with assessment, treatment, supervision, and support necessary to promote rehabilitation and to prevent re-offending, resulting in a safer community.

Juvenile Sex Offender and Arson Unit

Youth adjudicated for a violation of Penal Code §288, arson, or a reasonably related offense are placed on a specialized caseload. This caseload is managed by the Juvenile Sex Offender and Arson (JSO) unit in collaboration with treatment providers (when applicable) and the parent/legal guardian(s).

Sexually abusive justice-involved youth participate in outpatient treatment designed to reduce the likelihood of re-offense and promote prosocial development. These youth are provided multiple assessments to inform individualized treatment plans, treatment progress and timing of termination services. The treatment plans generally combine individual and group treatment sessions, relapse prevention strategies and family counseling to support successful program completion. Consistent with best practices, probation officers work in collaboration with treatment providers and families and maintain weekly contact to monitor each juvenile's progress, ensure their needs are being met and ensure they are in compliance with the terms and conditions of their probation.

Division of Juvenile Justice

Two probation officers operate the DJJ Reentry and Supervision program. Youth returning to the community from DJJ are placed on one of two specialized caseloads. At point of commitment, the officers and a DJJ Liaison begin an orientation phase wherein the youth are educated about what to expect once they arrive at DJJ, how their program will progress, and the opportunities that lie therein. Three months prior to community re-entry, the assigned officer convenes a re-entry team to begin transition and case planning. The officer meets with the youth at DJJ and coordinates efforts with the DJJ Liaison. Upon reentry, the officer provides supervision, services, and support to the youth in the areas of treatment, housing, and education/vocation opportunities. Youth also meet with an eligibility specialist through partnerships with the Probation Adult and Community Corrections Day Reporting Centers.

Black Child Legacy - Joint County/Community Collaboration

In the spring of 2011, the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors received a 20-year report on Sacramento deaths for the period 1990-2009. The report included a consistent finding that African-American children in Sacramento County died at disproportionately higher rates when compared to children of other races. In the fall of 2015, a strategic plan to reduce preventable African-American child deaths related to prenatal conditions, sudden infant death, abuse and neglect and third party homicide was presented by the Reducing African American Child Deaths (RAACD) Steering Committee and approved by the Board of Supervisors.

The RAACD Steering Committee's subsequent implementation plan identified six core objectives, based on the principles outlined in the strategic plan.

1. Engage youth and a select group of community institutions in priority neighborhoods and establish them as an inter-neighborhood network to reduce African-American child deaths.
2. Design a community/grass roots messaging and marketing campaign and deploy it through a saturation strategy in the focus neighborhoods.
3. Increase the level of investment in high-quality and evidenced-based programs and services for children, youth and families in the focus neighborhoods.
4. Improve access to services through the co-location of multidisciplinary social services teams to include probation in the seven focus neighborhoods.
5. Align County policy discussions and practice changes with identified neighborhood network priorities.
6. Monitor the quality of implementation, evaluate effectiveness, and report on progress toward the ultimate goal of reducing African-American child deaths and promoting children's well-being.

In keeping with the RAACD Steering Committee's plan, seven co-locations for multidisciplinary teams have been identified throughout the County in the following neighborhoods:

- Valley Hi;
- Meadowview;
- Fruitridge/Stockton Blvd;
- Oak Park;
- Arden-Arcade;
- North Sacramento/Del Paso Heights; and
- North Highlands/Foothill Farms.

County human services specialists, social workers and probation officers work collaboratively, through a trauma-informed lens, on-site with the community providers. The teams are responsible for connecting with youth through:

- Weekly case staff meetings;
- Monthly multidisciplinary team meetings;
- Forming partnerships with community providers and the local community team;
- Linking with families;
- Linking families to services;
- Family team meetings as needed; and
- Data collection.

Placement Services

Family maintenance is the primary goal of rehabilitation; however, there are cases where it is in the best interest of a minor on probation and the community to place the youth in an alternative Foster Care setting which may include a resource family or a short term residential therapeutic program (STRTP). The Probation Placement Services Division (Placement) is responsible for the supervision of these youth.

The children's services Continuum of Care Reform (CCR) efforts launched by the State in 2012 produced recommendations aimed at improving outcomes for youth removed from their homes and placed in congregate or foster care. In 2015, Assembly Bill (AB) 403 was approved by the Governor to further CCR efforts. Under the new law, group homes must be restructured to comply with new licensure requirements to provide short-term specialized and intensive treatment and will only be used for children whose needs cannot be safely met initially in a family setting. Services are designed to transition youth back home or to another permanent family as soon as possible. All placement decisions utilize the Child and Family Teaming process.

The California Department of Social Services (CDSS) continues to introduce new standards to counties as information surrounding AB 403 evolves, and Probation, in collaboration with juvenile system partners, continues to employ changes brought about by AB 403 as new information and standards are released. Current placement options and aftercare services are summarized below:

Level A Placement

Level A Placement focuses on placing youth in appropriate residential treatment facilities located within the State of California. Residential treatment facilities must be designated as STRTPs in order to be utilized by Probation.

Level B Placement

Level B Placement focuses on placing youth in treatment facilities located in states other than California. In order for youth to be placed out-of-state, this measure of intervention must be shown to be in the minor's best interest. These cases are staffed by the Interagency Placement Committee (IPC) designed to promote collaborative planning and coordination of services for youth and their families. The IPC includes representatives from BHS, DCFAS, Probation, Alta Regional and SCOE. Out of state residential treatment facilities must also be designated as STRTP Programs in order to be utilized by Probation.

Group Home Audits

In July 2011, Placement implemented a progressive group home auditing program. As the CDSS Community Care Licensing only requires group homes and STRTP audits within the State of California every five years, and outside California every year, Probation developed audit standards to protect youth and insulate the department from liability. Placement officers audit group homes and STRTPs annually using high standards to ensure youth are safe and living in environments conducive to change that provide therapeutic, academic and recreational services consistent with case plans, and officers confirm the structure and supervision levels are appropriate. This model is also used to review new programs seeking to receive referrals from Probation, when an allegations against the STRTP is made, or when incidents involving any resident occur.

Extended Foster Care (AB 12)

Foster care provides resources for non-minor dependents (450 WI) or Extended Foster Care (EFC) youth whom would normally exit placement without any assistance, services or reunification with parents or legal guardians. The goal of AB 12 is to ensure this population leaves foster care with the practical skills to achieve their potential and succeed in life. The initiative focuses on providing a safety net of financial assistance, services and ongoing support to these young adults as they age out of foster care. Placement currently has officers assigned to manage the unique challenges of this population by providing case management and supervision to these young adults as they transition to adulthood.

Foster Parent Recruitment, Retention and Support

Foster Parent Recruitment, Retention and Support (FPRRS) is a time-limited, multi-year project under CCR and is financially support by CDSS to recruit, retain and support foster caregivers with additional allowable expenditures such as: staffing, removal of barriers, intensive family finding, and other nontraditional outreach approaches to potential foster family homes, resource families, and relatives. Our goal is to increase home-based care capacity of those willing to accept a placement youth served by Probation. Officers' recruitment efforts include intensive family finding, community outreach, advertising, a media campaign, and technical assistance from an expert in the FPRRS effort. The State support of these difficult but necessary efforts will sunset June 30, 2019.

Commitment Options

Budget reductions during the 2008-2011 fiscal years resulted in the closure of the County's youth commitment facilities: the Warren E. Thornton Youth Center (WETYC) and the Sacramento County Boys Ranch (SCBR). These closures forced the YDF to convert from a detention facility into a commitment facility. Thus, the only two remaining commitment options available to the Juvenile Court are YDF and DJJ.

SECTION 6 – Information Sharing and Data

Probation uses a variety of methods to share information across agencies within the county. Multiagency disciplinary teams including Juvenile Justice System partners have been developed to coordinate case planning for youth associated with specific populations/programs including crossover youth, placement and Title IV-E. Memorandums of understanding are in place between Probation and various system partners to share information for specific programing, and community-based organizations provide reports to Probation regarding youth referred to their programs.

Probation's primary case management system is the Person Information System (PIP). PIP is a dynamic web-based application available to Probation staff. The PIP application empowers the user with flexible search and case management features. Information regarding warrants, booking, arrest history, restitution/fee balances, addresses, and approved family visitors is available to Probation staff in real time. Multiple PIP reports have been developed to pull specific data for reporting purposes.

Within PIP, the Juvenile Arrest Referral System (JARS) contains information related to risk and needs assessments, detention risk assessments, juvenile referrals and supervision levels.

Probation utilizes the dynamic LS/CMI and YLS/CMI risk and needs assessment tools. These tools allow Probation to measure changes in risk over time and can be used to evaluate the impact specific programing has on a youth's risk factors.

For some programs, data to track and evaluate outcomes will be pulled from the YLS/CMI 2.0 risk and needs assessment tool reports, in addition to Probation records and databases, such as the PIP, Juvenile Referral and Arrest System (JARS), Booking, Intake and Classification System (BICS) and Child Welfare Services/Case Management System (CWS/CMS).

SECTION 7 – Programs to Be Funded By JJCPA

The County will utilize the Fiscal Year 2019-20 estimated JJCPA funding of approximately $6.7 million to support the Roadmap for Success - Candidacy Assessment and Reentry Team, Community Based Supervision, and the Impact Services Unit, as well as the contract(s) established as a result of the RFP for an array of juvenile interventions. Probation continues to focus on structured case management skill development for probation officers working to keep children and families together.

SECTION 8 – Programs to Be Funded By YOBG

YOBG funding is used in coordination with JJCPA to fund several programs within the Juvenile Field Services Division. Through these two funding streams, the department is able to implement programs and strategies to rehabilitate justice-involved youth. The programs allow officers to provide specialized supervision services to youth in an effort to mitigate further involvement with the Juvenile Justice System.

Probation will utilize the Fiscal Year 2019-20 estimated YOBG funding of approximately $8.3 million to support three Juvenile Field Supervision units including Age of Majority, Community-based Supervision and Juvenile Sex Offender and Arson, as well as a contract with a community-based provider for accompanying juvenile sex offender treatment services.

SECTION 9 – Strategy for Non-707(b) Offenders

Probation's strategy for dealing with non-707(b) offenders does not differ from its strategy for other justice-involved youth. The use of best practices by the department and community providers assists in addressing Probation's immediate and long-term goals. These include providing appropriate types and levels of programming and services to the County's justice-involved youth.

Probation continues to work towards building capacity to provide community supervision and serve the non-707(b) /PC 290.008 population in the following areas: 1) transitional living opportunities; 2) educational assistance and/or vocational training; 3) employment placement; 4) family support; 5) parenting skills; 6) mental health services; and 7) substance abuse treatment.
